

A PLACE TO BELONG

BASED ON PSALM 87

Lord, you make a home for your people. You choose a city where your presence rests. You welcome every nation and every person. Help me see that I belong in your house.

You call strangers and friends to stand together. You count them as children of your family. Teach me to welcome others with the same love. Show me how to see each person as a brother or sister.

Your city is filled with joy and music. Streams of life flow from your dwelling. Fill my heart with that same joy. Let my words and actions bring life to others.

Lord, when I feel alone or far away, remind me of your promise. My true home is with you, and in your Church, I will always belong.

A PLACE TO BELONG

BASED ON PSALM 87

Lord, you make a home for your people. You choose a city where your presence rests. You welcome every nation and every person. Help me see that I belong in your house.

You call strangers and friends to stand together. You count them as children of your family. Teach me to welcome others with the same love. Show me how to see each person as a brother or sister.

Your city is filled with joy and music. Streams of life flow from your dwelling. Fill my heart with that same joy. Let my words and actions bring life to others.

Lord, when I feel alone or far away, remind me of your promise. My true home is with you, and in your Church, I will always belong.

A PLACE TO BELONG

BASED ON PSALM 87

Lord, you make a home for your people. You choose a city where your presence rests. You welcome every nation and every person. Help me see that I belong in your house.

You call strangers and friends to stand together. You count them as children of your family. Teach me to welcome others with the same love. Show me how to see each person as a brother or sister.

Your city is filled with joy and music. Streams of life flow from your dwelling. Fill my heart with that same joy. Let my words and actions bring life to others.

Lord, when I feel alone or far away, remind me of your promise. My true home is with you, and in your Church, I will always belong.