

A PRAYER OF THANKS FOR TODAY

BASED ON PSALM 65

Lord, you hear our prayers, even when we are unsure what to say. You forgive us when we fail, and you give us another chance. Thank you for welcoming us into your presence with love and peace.

You make the earth rich with beauty. The rain falls, the grass grows, and food fills our tables. Help us remember that every meal and every drink is a gift from you.

You calm the storms of nature and the storms in our hearts. When life feels hard, remind us that you are strong and near. Give us courage to trust you in all things.

The fields shout for joy, and the rivers sing your praise. Teach us to live with the same joy in our daily lives. Let our words and actions honor you today and always.
