

SING A NEW SONG TO YOU

BASED ON PSALM 149

Lord, you give me joy, so I will praise you with my words and my actions. Help me to remember you when life feels busy, and to see your goodness in each day.

You delight in those who are humble, so teach me to put others first. Help me to listen more than I speak, and to be kind when it is hard.

Give me courage to stand for what is right. When my friends turn away from you, help me to stay close to your truth, and to live in a way that honors you.

Let my whole life be a song to you. In my school, in my home, and with my friends, may my choices show your love. I will praise you always.

SING A NEW SONG TO YOU

BASED ON PSALM 149

Lord, you give me joy, so I will praise you with my words and my actions. Help me to remember you when life feels busy, and to see your goodness in each day.

You delight in those who are humble, so teach me to put others first. Help me to listen more than I speak, and to be kind when it is hard.

Give me courage to stand for what is right. When my friends turn away from you, help me to stay close to your truth, and to live in a way that honors you.

Let my whole life be a song to you. In my school, in my home, and with my friends, may my choices show your love. I will praise you always.

SING A NEW SONG TO YOU

BASED ON PSALM 149

Lord, you give me joy, so I will praise you with my words and my actions. Help me to remember you when life feels busy, and to see your goodness in each day.

You delight in those who are humble, so teach me to put others first. Help me to listen more than I speak, and to be kind when it is hard.

Give me courage to stand for what is right. When my friends turn away from you, help me to stay close to your truth, and to live in a way that honors you.

Let my whole life be a song to you. In my school, in my home, and with my friends, may my choices show your love. I will praise you always.